

SUNDAY SERVICE NOTES FOR MARCH 2022

Sunday, March 6

Be Spiritual

Rev. Dr. TK Barger

Rev. Tim has spoken about many aspects of living our Unitarian Universalism, including honoring world religions, being activists about social justice, and loving one another. In this service, Rev. Tim will encourage congregants to go beyond head, hands, and heart. Be spiritual, tending to that part of our human core that some call soul, others don't have a name for—the awe of being.

Sunday, March 13

Early

Rev. Dr. TK Barger

On the Sunday when we “lose” an hour at the beginning of Daylight Saving Time, let's look at aspects of earliness and how that can relate to our spirituality and our lives more generally.

Sunday, March 20

Widening the Circle: Make Croissants, Not Donuts

David Strickler

The recent UUA report, “Widening the Circle of Concern”, reviews societal trends, analyzes characteristics of white supremacy culture within our association, and makes recommendations to advance Unitarian Universalism. This worship service will examine the Hospitality and Inclusion section of the UUA report with a focus on ideas and actions relevant to our congregation.

Sunday, March 27

Widening the Circle: Old Principles, New Challenges

Rev. Joan VanBecelaere

As UUs, we have no creed, unlike many other faith traditions. We do however, “Covenant to Affirm and Promote” a statement of Principles, (found on Page X of the gray hymnal). When we lift up our seven Principles, some of us think of them as a simple historic statement of theology— but they are more important to our living UU identity than that: They inform us of how we should act in the larger world and with each other. In our ever-changing world, new concerns challenge our commitment to these old Principles. How can we authentically live into our Principles and seek out new ways of understanding that will guide us into the future?

Rev. Joan Van Becelaere is a retired Unitarian Universalist minister. She has served as the Executive Director of UU Justice Ohio and as a Congregational Life Consultant for the Ohio-Meadville District and the Staff Lead for CERG – the Central East Regional Group. Before holding this position, she was the vice-president for student services at the Iliff School of Theology, Denver CO, where she taught UU polity. She lives in Columbus OH with her spouse, Jerry, and four felines all named after Hebrew Bible prophets and kings.

Reverend Tim Barger

The timing for my upcoming stem cell transplant is getting “real.” Though the schedule is still considered tentative—based on the results of a couple more tests—the plan is for Jewel and me to be in Cleveland March 13 (after church in Toledo) through 17 with me as an outpatient at the Seidman Cancer Center at University Hospitals of Case Western Reserve University. The week before, I'll be receiving a medicine that will make me grow a lot of stem cells. Then the week we go to Cleveland, if I understand the procedure, through a process called apheresis my stem cells will be collected by the medical staff, and when they have enough (I remember the number as being in the millions), they'll freeze the stem cells and send me home. I'll report back to the hospital March 22 to be an inpatient for two weeks or so, and Jewel will be at a lodge for transplant recipients and family members. The hospitalization starts by my receiving a massive dose of chemotherapy, intended to kill as many remaining cancer cells as I have. There's a good possibility that I might lose my hair a few weeks later; if I end up with a buzz cut and clean shaven, please know that it's still me, I'm fine with the change, and the treatment is worth it. The official “transplant day,” when my stem cells are put back in my body, is slated for Thursday, March 24. I'll be in the hospital about two weeks after that; there will be close medical supervision as my body adjusts, plus I'll be isolated and away from infection. Though it's not a surgical procedure like organ transplants, and it's using my own blood, this is considered a major transplant. I'll have a brand-new immune system and will have to start over with a lifetime of vaccines. After the hospital time we'll be in Cleveland about two more weeks, with me an outpatient having regular medical appointments. Then it's back to Toledo probably after Easter, and I'm learning that my return to “regular” life won't be instant but that I'll be easing back in as I regain strength—and it could be a full year before I can start with the many vaccinations, so I'll still be keeping physical distance and wearing a mask. During my time in Cleveland, I don't want to overload you with detailed “organ recitals,” so I'll share more general information from time to time. I might be more detailed on my own Facebook page, and if you're not already a Facebook friend, you're welcome to friend me—and you should be able to read anyway, as my posts are set to “universal.” I have much gratitude and continuing thanks for your being with me through all of this. The reason for the stem cell transplant is so I can continue my work, and we can do church, with my having more time in remission from cancer. The church will be fine through this time, and you know that if you have needs or even just want to be in communication, you can always contact our office manager, Carol, suggesting an appointment time for a video or audio call—or, if it's an emergency, call me directly. During this time I'm not allowed visitors other than Jewel, so no road trips to Cleveland, okay? Your minister, Rev. Tim

Sandra Kosek-Sills, Board President

It may be winter still, but the Board is preparing for the Annual Meeting to be held this spring. Ideas we are thinking about include reducing the size of the board, moving some of our reserve funds, holding a board retreat, and beginning the advance work to consider the next capital campaign. The Nominating Committee will be considering who among the congregation could be asked to step into leadership. And of course we will begin to develop next year's budget. It's about time to start planning for General Assembly, which is in Portland, OR this year and also online. If you would like to be a delegate, please let myself or Rev. Tim know. It looks like Covid cases are declining again, so I'm looking forward to getting back into the swing of our usual church activities. Hope to see you in church soon! In fellowship, Sandra

Mickey Emch, Director of Music

As many of you know, I'm sad to say that I'll be stepping down as music director by the end of my contracted time in May. My hope is that giving plenty of notice will allow for us to find a great candidate and facilitate a smooth transition. I'm incredibly grateful for all that the church has given me in this role. Some of y'all know I've been working on a doctoral degree from BGSU – I've completed my coursework, but still need to write the dissertation. In October, I also began a full time position with the Toledo Alliance for the Performing Arts. As much as I'd love to stay on after May, my current 55+ hour weekly schedule isn't sustainable for my health or the quality of my work. Having Said That: I know there is a lot to juggle for the next few months and want to assure you I'm here to help. Our spring music series currently includes myself, guests, and congregation members performances. Please don't hesitate to reach out if you'd like to be involved! We're hopeful to incorporate “community sings” as Omicron's surge settles down, we'll also be prepping our All-Music Service on April 10th. While this will be my last spring in a leadership position, I'm honored to have been a part of the team and look forward to the next chapter of our music ministry! In fellowship, Mickey

MASKS REQUIRED

The COVID-19 Subcommittee has revised the Church Use Guidance for Fall 2021/Winter 2022. This will apply to any condition of church use: small groups, meetings, services, etc. If you have any questions, you can contact Sandra Kosek-Sills, Teresa Betts-Cobau, or Mary Souther for more information. Please note masks must be worn in our building at all times. In addition, please remember that you must sign in, anytime that you enter the building. Thank you

STYROFOAM

If you have Styrofoam you've been saving, bring it to the church. Contact Karen Porter to make arrangements to put it in the garage. (kjport@sbcglobal.net) or if you want to take it directly to Ann Arbor, the web site is: www.recycleannarbor.org for more information.

PLEASE SIGN IN ON SUNDAYS

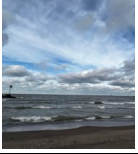

While we're having in-person services, we ask everyone present in the building to please sign in every Sunday on the sheet in the lobby. Just in case there's a need to notify people about a possible Covid-19 exposure, we can supply that list to the health department. We also ask on that sheet whether you've been vaccinated--to help with our own statistics and decision making. Thanks for taking the extra steps needed for us to be cautious and safer during the pandemic.

CARING COMMITTEE

If you or a member of our congregation is hospitalized, or need assistance, please let the Caring Committee know. Contact Joann Hartough or any member.
